  - 1992, 1994 legislation broadened through CAPTA to include community-based prevention and family resource services
  - 1996 CAPTA provided additional incentives to create Statewide networks of child abuse prevention programs (CBFRS program)
2003 CAPTA

- Builds upon the previous program, changes the name, adds stronger emphasis on certain aspects of the program

- 3 primary purposes in legislation:
  - To support community-based efforts to develop, operate, expand, and where appropriate to network, initiatives aimed at the prevention of CAN;
  - To support coordinated resources and activities to better strengthen and support families to reduce the incidence of CAN; and
  - To foster the understanding, appreciation and knowledge of diverse populations to effectively prevent CAN.
Vision for the CBCAP

- To support the development and expansion of community-based and prevention-focused programs and activities to support and strengthen families and prevent child abuse and neglect (e.g. voluntary home visiting programs, respite and crisis care, parent support, family resource centers, and other family support programs);
- To support the meaningful involvement of all parents, including parents with disabilities, in the planning, implementation and evaluation of prevention programs;
- To enhance the States’ evaluation capability to determine the effectiveness of funded prevention programs and activities;
Vision for CBCAP

- To promote greater linkages with other national and Statewide systems change efforts such as the Child and Family Service Reviews;
- To support training and technical assistance for the lead agencies on the requirements of the program, as well as support ACF Priorities such as healthy marriage, responsible fatherhood, outreach to faith and community-based programs, positive youth development and the rural initiative.
Vision for CBCAP
